Cease Fire

12th November 1918: Men of the First Battalion of Irish Guards hold aloft their steel helmets as they hear the news of the Armistice at Maubeuge in northern France. (Photo by Hulton Archive/Getty Images)

Armistice celebrations

I've Finished With It

1st December 1918: Demobilised British soldiers hand over their service kit, (rifle, bayonet, valise, belt, bag, etc), after signing off on completion of army service at a depot in Wimbledon, at the end of World War I. (Photo by J. J. Lambe/Topical Press Agency/Getty Images)

Street Party

circa 1918: A street party celebrating the end of World War I. (Photo by Central Press/Getty Images)

Citation:
Submarine Crew

November 1918: Lt Barraclough and Lt Osborne and the crew of their submarine at the surrender of German U boats at Harwich at the end of WW I. (Photo by J. J. Lambe/Topical Press Agency/Getty Images)

Returning Prisoners

British prisoners of war return to London from Germany at the end of World War I, circa 1918. (Photo by Paul Thompson/FPG/Getty Images)
Nurses at a war hospital posing for a photograph, 1914-1918.

Citation:
Armistice Day

A group of women joyfully waving Union Jacks on Armistice Day. (Photo by Topical Press Agency/Getty Images)

Armistice Day

A group of women with a disabled ex-serviceman celebrating the end of World War I on Armistice Day, 11th November 1918. (Photo by Topical Press Agency/Hulton Archive/Getty Images)

Citation:
Ceasefire Parade / Spectators / Photo

E: Ceasefire Parade / Spectators / Photo USA / Anniversary of Ceasefire (11 November 1918, end of World War I), 11 November 1938. - Spectators during a parade in Omaha (Nebraska). - Photo (John Vachon).
